In despair he drew his revolver and fired a shot into his head, dying at once.

DIES WHILE FIRE RAGES IN HOUSE WHERE HE LIVED

Joe Martin Passes Away on Sidewalk, to Which His Cot Was Carried.

Ship Carpenters Go to Metropolis Funeral.

DEATH FROM DIPHTHERIA

While fire raged in the boarding house of J. W. Burton, 321 South Third street, Joe Martin, an aged ship caulker, lay dying in a room. Willing hands removed his bed to the sidewalk, where he died in a short time. He was never conscious after the fire broke out. The house is one of the oldest in the city, and was not damaged seriously.

Martin was 72 years old, and was a ship caulker at the Paducah marine ways. For several days he was not working and was taken seriously ill last night. He has been in Paducah about a year, coming here from St. Louis. Little is known of his relatives, but he is said to have come from a good family. He has a daughter in Cincinnati and a daughter in St. Louis. His body was removed to the morgue of Muhl, Ellinger & Roth, pending word from relatives.

The first broke out in a closet on the lower floor, where bed clothing was stored. No cause is given for the fire, although it is presumed that rats gnawed matches. The flames spread up the walls, but hose company No. 1 and truck companies Nos. 1 and 4 checked the fire before it spread. The building is owned by E. W. Hugby and was erected many years before the Civil war.

Martin was in a room on the south side of the boarding house, while the fire was on the opposite side of the hall. For fear that the flames might spread to his room, his bed was carried to the sidewalk, where he died.

Forest Fire Destroys Many Towns On Minnesota-Manitoba Border and Snuffs Out Hundreds of Lives

Worst Disaster in Fifteen Years Reaches News Agencies This Morning—Thousands Homeless Wanderers

Warroad, Minn., Oct. 10.—At least 200 persons have perished in the forest fires, which have raged in this district for the last three days, and the death toll may reach 750 to 1,000, according to information received at Warroad, in the heart of the burning district at noon today. The towns of Beaudette and Spooner are completely wiped out, while the villages of Graetzton, Swift, Roosevelt, Pitt and Cedar Spur have been destroyed.

Worst in 15 Years.
Warroad, Oct. 10.—The greatest catastrophe in Minnesota that has occurred since the Hinkley horror 15 years ago, occurred Friday night and Saturday when the whole of the Minnesota-Manitoba boundary country was swept by fire and as the details become known the disaster assumes appalling proportions. The number of deaths is estimated from 100 to 200, almost entirely among the settlers of the woods around the towns of Beaudette, Pitt, Roosevelt and Graetzton. Very few settlers are known to have escaped. This estimate will likely fall considerably short of the actual number. The scenes are horrible. People lost their homes completely. The streets of the towns are strewn with personal belongings.

Crowds of able bodied men ran pell mell to board the waiting train at Beaudette to the exclusion of women and children and refused to assist in saving property. An east bound freight went through the burned country near Pitt. Pitt burned at 7 o'clock Friday night. A hurricane was blowing and within ten minutes after the appearance of the fire the inhabitants of the town were forced to flee, being unable to save anything.

The fire was heralded by a shower of burning brands which swept across Beaudette river. The inhabitants had scarcely time to board the special train waiting before the town was on fire. Sick people apparently by the score appeared and were carried or assisted to points of safety.

There were five patients in the Carrigan's hospital, which burned. One woman who had given birth to a child at five o'clock the same evening had to be carried to the office of a lumber company, where many people took refuge. The bulk of the population of Beaudette are housed at Rainy river and a special train is waiting to take the people to some other point east in case the fire should get a fresh start. The town is not entirely free from danger.

The buildings of Shively-Mathew Lumber company are practically the only structures left standing in Spooner, not even a tree, fence, or foot of sidewalk being in sight. There are not even heaps of debris. Everything was entirely licked up. The property loss in Rainy river, Beaudette and Spooner alone, including the Rat Portage Lumber company's plant and the yard at Rainy river and the yard of the Shively-Mathew Lumber company at Spooner will total about $1,500,000.

Thousands Missing.

The missing include some 2,000 residents of Beaudette, Spooner and Pitt, some of whom are dead but the most of whom are safe in Rainy river and adjacent towns on the Canadian side. The most serious aspect is that the missing includes homesteaders in the brush for a distance of 100 miles east and west and 20 miles south of here. Nothing can be learned. While the wind is keeping the fire moving eastward on the

RANKS CLOSE.
All the Paducah banks will close Wednesday, October 12, all day on account of that being Columbus Day, a state holiday. It is observed now in 18 states. Paducah Knights of Columbus will go to Waverly to the celebration on a special train, leaving here over the Illinois Central at 6 o'clock a. m., and arriving there about 9. Several hundred knights from south-western Kentucky will attend. They will return that night about 10 o'clock.

South side of Rainy river at 50 miles an hour, a great body of flames has wiped this section revealing a calamity that has already reached the limit of an international disaster.

Railroad and wire connections from the west are cut off by the burned district from Warroad, Minn., on the Canadian Northern railroad for a distance of 40 miles, through which the last trains passed last night at the peril of the lives of the crew. The road is open to the south and east and relief is being afforded from Fort William.

These fires have been smoldering in that district for months. They were started anew by the terrific wind which began two days ago. A wave of flame over a hundred feet high and as long as far as half a mile wide. It was this situation that caused so many to perish on the railway track. They sought this opening in the brush but perished.

Tells Thrilling Story.
James Ramsay, of Spooner, said: "I was several miles south of Beaudette when I first heard the roar of the flames. I started to run for town but the fire was coming fast and was close. I caught up with a man who was accompanied by a

JUSTICE HUGHES TAKES HIS PLACE ON SUPREME BENCH

Ceremony of Swearing In New Member of Supreme Court This Morning.

Convenes For Fall Term of Great Importance.

JUSTICE HARLAN PRESIDES

(United Press Association)
Washington, Oct. 10.—The supreme court of the United States, presided over temporarily by John M. Harlan as senior associate justice, opened the October term today and prepared for what is likely to go down in history as one of the most important years in the record of that judicial body.

Charles Evans Hughes took the oath of office and was seated at the extreme left of the bench. In the place customarily occupied by the last commissioned of the justices. When this impressive ceremony was completed the court heard motions. Justice Harlan thereupon announced the death of Chief Justice Fuller during the recess and the court adjourned out of respect of his memory. The usual practice of adjourning to call upon the president was dispensed with as President Taft was not in the city. The real work of the court will begin tomorrow when cases will be heard.

Including Justice Hughes there were only seven of the justices on the bench, the place formerly occupied by Justice Moody, being vacant and another vacancy occurring as a result of the death of Chief Justice Fuller. These cannot be filled until appointments have been made by President Taft and confirmed by the senate.

In accordance with the traditions of the supreme court the justices assembled in the robing room whence they were escorted to the chamber by the Marshal J. H. Wright. It was in the robing room that the first oath to support and defend the constitution and was taken in the presence of the other justices only. This having been administered the procession formed to enter the supreme court chamber, the justices taking their places in the line according to seniority.

Ex-Governor Hughes, as yet without his new title, followed at the end of the procession. Upon entering the chamber he took his seat at the clerk's desk in accordance with the procedure that has been followed for many years.

Justice Harlan, after the court opened, announced that Mr. Hughes of New York, who had been commissioned a justice of the court was present. He then directed the clerk, James H. McKenney, to read the commission. Following this, Justice Harlan directed that the oath of office be administered. This was done by the clerk, Mr. Hughes following with a firm voice, saying: "I, Charles Evans Hughes, do solemnly swear that I will administer justice without respect to persons, and do equal right to the poor and to the rich, and that I will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent on me as associate justice of the supreme court of the United States according to the best of my abilities and understanding, agreeably to the constitution and laws of the United States. So help me God."

The marshal then shook hands with the new justice, according to custom, and escorted him to his seat on the extreme right of the bench as he sat down Justice Holmes, occupying the next chair, shook hands with him and the other justices bowed without rising.

BATTLE BETWEEN YANKEE MARINES AND HONDURANS

New Orleans, Oct. 10.—Private messages received here today from Central America say that Honduras soldiers have taken possession of American mines about Amapala by orders of the port commandant. Mine managers today sent tugs down the river to Amapala on which they hope to take United States marines from the gunboat Princeton up to the mines and regain their property tomorrow.

"WHAT IT COSTS TO BE A CHRISTIAN"

And Not to Be

Dr. Torrey Addresses Crowd of Nearly 5,000 People at Auditorium Sunday Night—Several Rise For Prayers—Program For Week.

Several conversions resulted from the Torrey meeting at the Auditorium last night, when between 4,000 and 5,000 people crowded the big building to hear the famous speaker. This is the first visible fruit of the meeting.

Dr. Torrey was at his best last night before the immense crowd. His subject was, "What It Costs Not to Be a Christian."

Both Mr. Kimsey and Mr. McEwan sang, the former just before the sermon and the latter at its conclusion. These features, together with the chorus choir work, added greatly to the beauty and effectiveness of the service.

Song service will begin each night this week at 7:30, followed by a sermon by Dr. Torrey. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock a special service for children will be held. At 7:30 again that night Dr. Torrey will preach to adults.

Each morning at 10 o'clock Dr. Torrey lectures on the Bible and at 11:15 the Rev. Mr. Jacoby talks on how to use the Bible.

Dr. Torrey's sermon last night was:

"I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto Thy Testimonies." —Psalm cxlv, 20.

A good many years ago I was talking to a young society lady in the city of New Haven in America, and suddenly she stopped me and said, "Don't talk that way; it makes me think, and I hate to think." The world is full of people who hate to think, and because they hate to think they go into things blindfolded, and come out with blighted hope and broken hearts and blasted life.

It is so in business. How many a business man there is in this city tonight who a few years ago had a business proposition made to him, and instead of sitting down, as any long-headed business man would do, and thinking it all over, and figuring it all out as to how much money he would have to put into that investment before he realized how many years it would be before there was any adequate return, and what interest on his money there would be, just because it promised well on the surface he accepted the proposition without sufficient thought regarding it he just put his money into that project and left it there, and that man's life ever since has been a wretched drag for a bare existence. Simply because he hated to think!

It is the same way in social life. How many a young woman has met at some social gathering a handsome, attractive young man, a young fellow who is a fine waltzer, and popular and attractive in all his ways; and one night that young man makes a proposal of marriage to her, and instead of sitting down, as any sensible girl would do, and asking herself whether that man has the mental and moral qualities that fit him to be a companion for life, just because he is handsome, because he is attractive and popular, because he is a beautiful waltzer, that young woman accepts his proposal of marriage and marries him; and after a few months she wakes up one day to find that she has married a fool, or what is worse, a rascal. And all that woman's future life is wretched beyond description, just because she hated to think.

But there is no place where that mistake is made so often and where it is so fatal as in the matter of being, or not being, a Christian. Men and women go into a Christless life, drift on in it, without even once sitting down to give the question

AN OLD-TIME PRESCRIPTION

In a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. 30 minutes' honest consideration. What it costs to live and die without Jesus Christ. Now I am going to ask you to do some thinking tonight. Some hard, serious, honest thinking. What I am going to ask you to think about is this: what it costs not to be a Christian, what it costs to live and die without Jesus Christ. And if when I get through you think you are willing to pay the price of a Christless life, I have nothing more to say.

But if, when you have thought it all out, you come to the conclusion that it costs too much to live and die without Christ, I am going to ask you to do the only intelligent thing there is to do in the circumstances, that is, to stand up here tonight and declare your purpose to accept Jesus Christ right now.

Not a Christian.
What does it cost not to be a Christian? First of all, what is it to be a Christian? By a Christian, I understand, any man, woman, or child, that comes to God as a lost sinner, takes Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour, surrenders to Him as their Lord and Master, confesses Him as such publicly before the world, and strives to live to please Him in everything day by day.

What does it cost not to do it? In the first place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of peace. A Christian has peace. "Being justified by faith, we have peace with God through the Lord Jesus Christ." —Romans, v. 1. And having peace with God we have peace in our hearts, but no man out of Christ has peace. "There is no peace for the wicked, saith my God."

One night in Chicago, after a meeting like this, when the congregation had gone out, I went and sat down in a seat by the side of a gentleman about 35 years of age, and I said, "My friend, why are you not a Christian?"

"Oh," he said, with a shrug of his shoulders, "I am very well satisfied as I am."

I said, "You haven't peace." He said, "How do you know that?"

I said, "Because God says so; 'There is no peace for the wicked, saith my God.'"

The man dropped his head, and said, "You are right, sir, I haven't peace."

And there is not a man or woman in this audience tonight out of Christ that has peace. Money won't give you peace; the pleasures of this life won't give you peace; no number of good earthly friends will give you peace; not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of peace.

In the second place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of the highest, deepest, purest, holiest, most overflowing joy that can be known right here on earth—As we read in the Scripture lesson tonight, in 1 Peter i. 8: "Though now ye see him not, yet believing in Him ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory." That was Peter's testimony. That is the experience of every true Christian.

A real living faith in Jesus Christ gives a man joy unspeakable and full of glory. Nobody out of Christ has joy unspeakable and full of glory. "Oh," but you say, "I know many a Christian that has not joy unspeakable and full of glory."

A real Christian? You know there are two kinds—professing Christians and real Christians. Now I will admit that there are a great many people in the world that call themselves Christians, who have just enough religion to make themselves miserable. They are holding to the world with one hand, generally to the right hand, and to Jesus Christ with the other. Of course, they have not joy unspeakable and full of glory.

But show me a Christian who has dropped the world with both hands, and laid hold of Jesus Christ with both hands, and I will show you a man or woman that has joy unspeakable and full of glory. How Satan deceived me along that line for many years when I was a mere lad!

I went one day up to the third story of our home, where we had a great storeroom where we put away the old books out of the library, and as a boy I loved to go and sit on the floor of that room, and get the books around me and look through them, and one day I came across the covenant of the church of my mother, and commenced to read it, and I said to myself, "I wonder if I can't be a Christian?" I can say "Yes" to that, and can say "Yes" to that, and that, and after a time I came to a place where it said something to this effect, "If I became a Christian, I was to be willing to do anything God said, and go anywhere He said."

I shut up the book and said, "No, just as likely as not I'll have to be a preacher if I say 'Yes' to that, and then life won't be worth living."

And I threw that book away and deliberately refused to take Jesus Christ, and deliberately refused to think about it any more. Then I said to myself, "I am going in for all the pleasure I can get," and I had a good opportunity to get it.

My father was well off in this world's goods; and as a boy of 15 I was sent off to the university and matriculated for a degree, and my father sent me up all the money I wanted.

Now, if you put a boy into a university, who learns easily and has no trouble to keep up with his class, a boy with a rich father, who does not ask him how he spends his money—I have often thought it would have been a good thing for me if he had—if anybody can have a good time, he can, and I went in for a good time. Did I find it? You know whether I did or not. I did not. And I went deeper, deeper, deeper, deeper into dissipation and sin to find joy to satisfy my unsatisfied heart.

I did not find it, and one awful night, a mere boy still, with all hope gone, with life desolate and bare, life so barren that there was just one step between me and hell, in fact, that very night I started to take that awful step, to take my life by my own hand. I sprang out of bed and drew open a drawer to take out the instrument that would end my life. For some reason or other I could not find it. God did not let me find it, and I dropped upon my knees, and said, "O God, if you will take this awful burden from my heart, I will preach the Gospel; and God not only removed the burden, I found a joy I had never dreamed of in this world, and all the years since it has gone on increasing with the exception of a short time when I fell under the delighting power of scepticism and agnosticism; all the rest of the time all these years the joy has grown brighter, brighter, brighter every year. Young men and women, if you want the deepest, sweetest, purest, most overflowing joy there is to be known on earth, come to Jesus Christ.

Hope Gone.
In the third place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of hope. A Christian has hope—As we read in Titus i. 2, "In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot die, promised." Oh, how magnificent that hope is, hope of eternal life! How sure it is, resting on the Word of God, who cannot lie. The world has not hope like that. The world holds out no hope that has any foundation. Hope for the future is more important than present possession.

A man says, "I do not believe that." "Oh," some one says, "I do not believe that; give me the present and I will let the future take care of itself."

Yes, you do believe it. There is not a man or woman here tonight that does not believe that hope for the future is more important than present possession.

A man says, "I do not believe it." Yes, you do; I will prove it to you in five minutes. Suppose you had your choice tonight between being a millionaire and having all that money you buy for tonight, with no hope for tomorrow, but with the rising of tomorrow's sun and the opening of tomorrow's banks to be proved to be an embezzler, and all your money swept away, and you cast into prison to spend the rest of your life there; or to be absolutely penniless tonight, but with the absolute certainty that with the rising of tomorrow's sun and the opening of tomorrow's banks you were to be a millionaire all the rest of your life, which would you choose?

"Oh," you say, "that's very easy; I would choose to be penniless tonight, with the certainty that tomorrow and all the rest of my life I was to be a millionaire."

So would I, but that only shows that you believe that hope for the future is more important than present possession; and I would rather be the poorest child of God in the world tonight, with the absolute certainty that with the dawn of eternity I was to be for all eternity an heir of God and joint-heir with Jesus Christ, than to be the richest man on earth tonight out of Christ, with no outlook for all eternity but to be cast into God's eternal prison-house of hell.

Lungs Declared Sound—Life Insurance Granted.

If you knew a remedy that really had cured tuberculosis, that had saved from death quite a number of people, would you try to get the proprietors interested in it and induce them to take it, or would you say nothing about it for fear of giving offense?

We know the medicine. We know the stories of cures of many—and affidavits from some. We advertise Bekman's Alternative to tell those who have lung disease what has been done by its use. Investigate the following:

1515 W. Dauphin St., Philadelphia, Pa. Gentlemen: On the evening of May 22, 1907, I had a hemorrhage from my right lung. My hemorrhages kept up for one week—I had twenty-eight in all. Respiratory pneumonia developed. My doctor told me I had better go to another climate, as my left lung had also become affected. About that time I met Howard Klotz, 1619 Sansborough Ave., this city, who had bronchitis several years ago and who was cured by Bekman's Alternative. I started to take Bekman's about the latter part of August, 1907. The appetite improved at once and in about two weeks I started to gain weight. I improved steadily. Later, a very bad hemorrhage developed in my right leg and I was obliged to get a lump on my right hip. My doctor told me I was getting a tubercular abscess and that it was affecting the pelvic nerve. The hemorrhages and lung trouble disappeared. I have not had any trouble of that kind since.

Since my recovery about a year ago, I was accepted for the insurance class by examination by a company that had previously rejected me. I have advised several people to take Bekman's and these who took it fully had the same results as myself. Signed Affidavit CHAS. THE DAYLIGHT STORE

A man out of Christ has no hope, even from the life that now is, that is at all sure.

You say, "That is too strong; a man out of Christ may have no hope for the future, but if he is rich he has for the present life."

You are mistaken. Come with me to New York City. We walk up Fifth avenue; we stop before one of the most elegant mansions there; we go up the steps and are ushered through the hall down to the library at the end of the hall. You and I stand there on the threshold and look into the library. In it there are two men deep in earnest conversation. This is not an imaginary case, but an actual one. One of these men is worth one hundred and ninety-six millions of dollars, by an actual inventory of his property taken a few days after the time of which I am speaking. The other man is one of America's greatest financiers.

You and I stand there and look in, and you say, "Well, I would like to be in that man's shoes. One hundred and ninety-six million dollars! I do not know anything about his religious convictions, I do not know anything about his eternal prospects, but he is well fixed for many years to come so far as this life is concerned."

You are mistaken. While you and I are looking in, that man falls out of his chair on his face on the floor, and when Quincy Garrett picks William H. Vanderbilt from the floor he is a corpse.

For all his one hundred and ninety-six millions he had no hope for five minutes.

Friends, we all of us here tonight are like men standing on the seashore looking out over the boundless ocean of eternity, and as we look out, there comes towards some of us—those of us who have a living faith in Jesus Christ—gallant vessels laden with gold and silver and precious stones, with every sail set, wafted swiftly towards us by the breezes of the divine favor.

But toward the rest of us—those out of Christ—as we look out over the boundless ocean of eternity, there come no vessels, but dismantled wrecks, with no cargoes but the livid corpses of lost opportunities, over which are hovering the vultures of eternal despair, driven madly towards us by the fast-rising blasts of the indignation of a holy and an outraged God. That is what it costs not to be a Christian.

Manhood Gone.
4. In the next place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of the highest manhood and the highest womenhood.—Have you ever thought of it, that we have all fallen away from God's ideal of manhood and womanhood through sin? Paul puts it in his tremendous way, "We have all sinned and come short of the glory of God;" all fallen short of God's ideal of manhood; and the only way back to it is by the acceptance of Jesus Christ.

Daily Thought.

Honesty needs no pains to set itself off.—Edward Moore.You can abbreviate it 10-10, 10, today.F. O. Watts, of Nashville, who has many relatives in Paducah, was elected president of the American Bankers' association at Los Angeles.THE GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD.Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, staked his reputation on the opinion that if the Payne law was enacted, high prices would follow. He would have taken about the same risk if he had predicted that they preceded the bill. All during the panic of 1907, when men everywhere were thrown out of work, prices continued to increase. Now, strangest of all, the articles which increased most in price and are increasing most in price, are those, which are not protected by the tariff. It is not the price of steel and silk and champagne that worries the average citizen. It is the price of butter and eggs and flour and meat and potatoes. These are produced by the farmer, and he is the fellow, who is reaping the benefit of high prices.The wage scale is not bothering the farmer, as it is the manufacturer, and the middleman. In Europe conditions are much worse, and the disparity between the cost of living and the scale of wages is much graver. Over here shrewd men can, by economy and thrift—and God forbid that the time will come when these two virtues are not forced on me—acquire a home; but they can't over there.Odd that the Payne bill should have started prices mounting five years before it was suggested, and that its operations should extend over the known civilized world; but that is what one must admit, if he argues that the Payne bill is responsible for the high cost of living.

PORTUGAL'S NEW PRESIDENT.

It was a coincidence, worthy of passing comment, that when the overthrow of the Portuguese dynasty came and the new republic was declared, the recently elected president of Brazil, an offshoot of Portugal, should be present. He represents in his office a reminder of Portugal's one time high place among maritime nations. The new president of Portugal, Braga, is a free thinker, a positivist, and a man hated by conservatives, and returning that hate with interest. His own life story, indicates how that hatred was burned in, and may give cause some apprehension less it may indicate a lack of breadth, such as is necessary for a man at such a crisis in a nation's career.There is an unconscious revelation of the manner of man who now is at the head of national affairs in this brief autobiography President Braga wrote a few weeks ago at the request of a Paris newspaper:
"At the age of 2 he lost his mother and was tormented by a terrible stepmother until 1881.
Then he left his father's house and went to Coimbra university with a small sum received for a volume of verse which he published at Ponta Delgada.
"At Coimbra his life was an onerous struggle because of lack of means. He bore up in this struggle

Taylor's Nomination Will Not Avail.

The "Harmony" convention did what was expected when Senator Taylor was nominated for governor, holding thereby to overcome the tidal wave of true Democracy by the personal popularity of their candidate, but they have "reckoned without their host."The questions at issue are of too serious a nature to be lost in the whoo and halloo of a whirlwind campaign, and "Our Bob" by allying himself with the Patterson Democrats has simply joined the "Down-and-Out Club" of political "Has Beens."The Independent Democrats of Tennessee, who are the true representatives of the great party of Jefferson, Madison, Jackson and Lehan-g, Harris, are supporting Capt. Lee W. Hooper, not as a Republican, but as an honest man who has accepted their nomination and stands upon the platform enunciated by them, and who accepts their support as Democrats, who are and will remain staunch adherents to the principles of the party which they are seeking to redeem from the domination of the most unscrupulous political machine which ever existed in this country.—Jackson Sun.

Senator Taylor's Candidacy

The nomination of Senator Taylor as a candidate for governor by the convention, composed in the main of delegates representing the Patterson wing of the Democratic party, will in our judgment have an appreciable effect upon the result in November.
Senator Taylor has in the past had a strong hold on the Democratic masses of Tennessee, but in his campaign for the United States senate against the late Senator Carmack the vote indicated that the opposition to Taylor was of about equal strength and nothing has occurred since to justify the conclusion that Senator Taylor is stronger now than he was in his race for the senate. On the contrary, evidence is not wanting to indicate that the senator has lost much of his former prestige.There may, and doubtless will be, a few Democrats here and there who will be influenced by the cry of party regularity and harmony, but the rank and file of Independent Democrats who supported the udiciary ticket in August will stand together in support of Hooper in November. The cry of "regularity" and "harmony" has lost much of its force and influence, by reason of the extraordinary conditions with which the state has been confronted during the past eight months.The action of the Republicans in their refusal to nominate a Republican udiciary ticket, coupled with the support they gave to the Independent Democratic ticket, has drawn the large body of Independent Democrats to the support of Captain Hooper. It was through this action of the Republicans throughout the state, so ably led by Captain Hooper in east Tennessee that the Democratic udiciary ticket was elected by such a large majority. It was through and with the aid of Republicans that the state of Tennessee was saved from the disgrace and humiliation of the defeat of a court composed of men who had refused to be dominated or controlled by the machine. It was bad in the administration of the Republicans that machine politics in Tennessee has been annihilated, and it was through this that all that is bad in the administration of the state's affairs has been given a rebuke. But for this action upon the part of the Republicans of the Hooper type it is extremely doubtful whether these very desirable ends could have been accomplished, and it is in recognition and appreciation of this act that the masses of Independent Democrats will stand together in the support of the fusion candidate for governor, and not only because of this but also because Capt.
Hooper has shown himself to be a conscientious, capable and courageous man to whom the masses maywith unconquerable pride and in 1872 he presented himself as a candidate for a professorship of modern European literature.
"All the conservative elements were opposed to him—Catholics, monarchists, metaphysicians, ultra-nationalists, and journalists in the government's pay—but the public acclaimed him and forced the ministry to appoint him. Braga is considered an enemy by the conservative classes because he is a Republican to politics, a free thinker, and, as regards philosophy introduced positivism into Portugal. That suffices to make him detested."

As to Bob Taylor.

The nomination of Robert F. Taylor for governor of Tennessee was not unexpected. For a week he had been almost a foregone conclusion.
He is believed to be very strong with the voters of the state. Already he has been governor three times. He was first elected in 1886, again in 1888, and the third time in 1896.
His majorities were not large. He defeated the late Sam W. Hawkins by only a few thousand votes, and in 1896 led Tillman by but a modest margin. Governor Taylor is an attractive character, however, with railing qualities, and doubtless will prove as good a vote getter as could at so late an hour have been conscripted. He will make a hurried campaign and pour his oil from Carter to Shelby upon anything that has the appearance of troubled political waters. The distinguished statesman will hardly go the extreme length of rashness by resigning his seat in the senate. He will find the latter a very comfortable abiding place in the event that the government fails to recognize his seductive qualities. Beyond a doubt there will be many Democrats to vote for Captain Hooper.—Memphis News-Semitar.A tip:—The next governor of Tennessee will not be bald-headed.— Jackson Sun.

He Waited Too Long.

It is too early to say what will be the effect of putting out Taylor as a harmonizer, but as yet we see no evidence of any considerable change in alignment by reason of the choice.
Senator Taylor's course this year has not been such as to entitle him to leadership of the Democracy. When true Democrats needed him to plead their cause for a fair deal before the Patterson machine committee, the senator could not be induced to come to the state. When he finally spoke he urged Democrats to accept an outrageous primary plan, although in the same breath he said that he would not favor such a plan for his own candidacy. Vacillating all the way through, he agreed to make speeches for the regulars and then cancelled the engagements. If after the August election, he had had the courage to denounce Pattersonism and call on the governor to retire, he might have led a true harmony movement. He waited too long.— Chattanooga News.

Sympathy for Bob.

The loyal "untraded" Democrats of Tennessee have spoken in a convention of their own making; have adopted a platform to their own liking and selected the man nearest to their own hearts as their standard bearer—Robert L. Taylor. We had hoped that the party would not exact this sacrifice of Senator Taylor, but that they would find some other man from among the long list of capable, loyal leaders to assume the responsibility, but no man can question the sincerity of their choice and the sympathizers of their sovereign will, and like a man who realizes his obligations to the people who have so often honored him, Senator Taylor has yielded, and we with all other well-wishers of the commonwealth join in acquiescence to the majority vote. Now let's have done with this holier-than-thou bombast; this pretense of superior morality and this hypocritical cant about "the God and morality" uplift of the Republican party. To continue it will be to take the people for simpletons and the voters for intellectual imbeciles.There is no Pattersonism with which to conjure up hate and revenge and bowism in the name of Robert L.
Taylor. The issue is clearly joined —the Democracy, the free and un-traded electorate against the machine forces of the most consummate machine ever invented by political bosses.—Chattanooga Times.

NEWS OF PADUCAH CHURCHES

With the best report in 70 years the delegates from the First Baptist church will attend the West Union association, which will meet Wednesday at the Newton's creek Baptist church near Kevil. During the year there has been a net gain of 76 members, making the membership October 1, 1909. The report of the financial condition is the best in the history of the church. The disbursements amount to $9,063.64, while the contributions to state, home and foreign missions amount to $2,342.73. The Mite society, the Dodd society and the Missionary society made the best reports in the history both in point of membership as well as financial aid. The delegates appointed yesterday are: J. E.
Butter, J. M. Miller, Dr. L. Eley and the Rev. M. E. Dodd.One of the most forcible sermons ever heard in the church was delivered yesterday morning by Dr.
Dodd on "The Blackboard and How God Deals With Him." He reviewed the chastisement received by God's people when at the height of their successes forgot Him. At the conclusion of the sermon there were several additions to the membership by letters, and others gave promises to live better lives. The usual evening service was held with baptism at the close.Yesterday morning Mr. William McEwan, soloist with Dr. Torrey, sang the morning offertory.

Presbyterial Missions.

The Rev. H. W. Burwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, reported to the congregation yesterday morning that at the recent meeting of Paducah Presbytery at Marion, the Presbytery decided to dissolve relations with the synodical home mission committee, and hereafter the presbytery will look after the mission work in its own territory and all the money raised by these churches will be devoted to mission work within this presbytery. The Synod has devoted most of its efforts to the mountain work and the Presbyterial delegates thought southwestern Kentucky could better look after its own field first.Miss Anne Bradshaw sang a beautiful soprano solo at the morning service.Dr. Burwell's subject was "A Retrospect, Involving a Responsibility," in which he recalled the duty and obligation of the church and its membership with regard to the gospel preached to it during a half century, and calling upon the members tothe day after the affair, and Mr.
Lindsey says the Mexicans have the art of decoration well learned, and are, if anything, superior to Americans in that respect.Mayor James P. Smith has returned from Chicago and Springfield, Ill. At the state fair Saturday he saw Hoxsey in his bi-plane defeat Barney Oldfield's "bullet on four wheels," and witnessed Hox-sey's start on his marvelous St.
Louis flight. At Springfield he consulted the state game warden, an authority on rogs, regarding blood-hounds, and is in communication with other parties, in regard to securing a pack for the use of the city.consider within their own minds how well or how ill they had responded to the gospel message.Tenth Street Christian.
Splendid services with special musical numbers were enjoyed yesterday at the Tenth Street Christian church. The pastor, the Rev. B. H. Wyatt, delivered two strong sermons. Before the Sunday school Miss Mary Andor-son, pianist for Dr. H. A. Torrey, delivered a pleasing talk to the pupils.
Mr. Howard Kinsey, one of the co-workers with Dr. Torrey, delivered two solos.Five Baptized.
Five converts to the North Twelfth Street Baptist church were baptized in the Ohio river at the foot of Broadway at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon by the pastor, the Rev. J.
Clark. Last night after his sermon on the subject of "Jesus, the Mighty To Save," there were three additions to the church by letter Yesterday morning he preached on the subject of "The Conquest of Death.""Influence."
"Influence" was the subject of the Rev. B. H. Shaffer's sermon yesterday morning at the Second Baptist church. Last night he preached on the subject of "The Ark a Type of Christ."One Service.
Only one service was held at the German Evangelical church yesterday, that being at night. The pastor, the Rev. H. M. Wiesecke, was in Brookport Sunday morning and at night preached on the subject of "Confirmation and Revival" at which time he endorsed the Torrey revival and urged the congregation to attend the services.

Talks to Young Folk.

As a result of a talk on the subject of "Leading a Christian Life," given yesterday morning by Miss Mary Moody Parker to the Sunday school of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church, a number of young girls and boys took their stand for Christ at the church services yesterday morning. The Rev. Landis preached on the subject of "Ideals of Christian Life," emphasizing some points brought out by Miss Parker.He urged the congregation to live as Christ, love and serve Him and lead others to Him. Next Sunday morning there will be a reception of new members into the church. A session of the board will be held at 10:30 o'clock, preceding the morning sermon.

Mr. Leavitt Spoke.

Owing to the illness of the pastor, the Rev. G. T. Sullivan there was no preaching at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday. Sunday school services were held, and the Men's Bible class was addressed by Mr. William H. Leavitt, the American artist now exhibiting his picture "The Last Supper" in Philadelphia.

Dr. Fite Leaves.

The Rev. W. A. Fite, pastor of the First Christian church, left last night for Topeka, Kan., to attend the Christian church convention and have been visiting relatives in Kansas. Yesterday morning the Rev.
Fite preached to a large congregation. The Sunday school attendance was large. Next Sunday the school will be addressed by Miss Mary Moody Parker, private secretary to Dr. H. A. Torrey.

Mission Festival.

A Mission Festival for the purpose of encouraging home and foreign missions, will be held at the German lutheran church next Sunday morning and evening. Communion will be taken at the morning service and collections for missions taken at both services. The Rev. Martin Heegeemann, of Memphis, Tenn., will fill the pulpit, preaching in the German language at the morning service and in the English language at night.

The services yesterday were well

DEFENDING HOME

JURY SO DECIDED AND ACQUIT-TED DRAKE.

Also His Sister, Jennie Lynn, Was Set Free at the Murder Trial.

Both Jim Drake and his sister, Jennie Lynn, were acquitted late Saturday afternoon on the charge of the murder of John Gibson. The jury deliberated the case for over 24 hours. Shortly after 3:30 o'clock Circuit Judge William Reed called for the jury to report. The jurors announced that they had agreed upon a verdict of not guilty for Jennie Lynn, but had failed to agree as to the fate of Drake.

They asked instruction regarding the law on a man defending his home, and then retired. In less than ten minutes the jurors reported for a second time and acquitted Drake.
Drake and his sister both thanked the jurors as they left the court house, the prisoners in the county jail whooped and yelled for joy. Gibson was shot and killed at the home of Jennie Lynn, 332 Harris street.

Pain in Heart

"For two years I had pain in my heart, back and left side.
Could not draw a deep breath or lie on left side, and any little exertion would cause palpitation. Under advice I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Nervine. I took about thirteen bottles, am in better health than I ever was, and have gained 14 pounds."

MRS. LILLIE THOMAS,
Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

For many years Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been very successful in the treatment of heart troubles, because of its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles. Even in severe cases of long standing it has frequently prolonged life for many years after doctors had given up all hope, as proven by thousands of letters we have received from grateful people.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return your money.

feet since Sunday or 4.3 feet since Saturday.

With a good trip of freight and passengers the Bob Dudley arrived at 6 o'clock this morning from Nashville and departed at noon for a return trip. Her cargo consisted of hay, cattle, scrap iron and trestles owned by Contractor G. W. Katter-John and a shipper from Clarksville where they were used in building a warehouse.

Captain James Koger returned yesterday from a trip to Nashville, Tenn.

The John L. Lowry is expected tonight or early tomorrow morning from Evansville.

The Clyde is due this afternoon or tonight from Waterloo, Ala., and will make a return trip Wednesday evening.

Capt. James F. Brown, Jr., of Joplin, Mo., returned home this

On her initial trip since being rebuilt the Tomahawk, formerly the W.
T. Hardison, came up from Mound City yesterday in charge of Capt.
James Beatty and a party. She will go to the Tennessee for this.

In making her landing last night when she returned from Golconda the ferryboat Robertson bumped into the south end of the wharboat, knocking in some of her cabin supports. Little damage was done.

A popular log raft valued at $4,000 was brought from the Tennessee river yesterday by the Cutaway 1 and delivered to the Lucas Lumber company. Some of the logs were 51 inches thick.

There is a fine boating stage here

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy."

—Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 10, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

It reminds rivermen of the spring season as 21 feet of water at this time of the year is a rare thing.

The George Cowling is making her two trips from Metropolis.

The Waterways Journal says: It is authoritatively reported that the Rock Island railroad proposes to build a bridge across the Mississippi at Memphis. This bridge, it is said, will cost more than $3,000,000.

It is also said that the Memphis & Pensacola railroad proposes to build a bridge across the Mississippi at Helena, Ark.

CROPS ALSO LOOKING WELL.

New York, Oct. 10. (Special.)— The betterment in conditions previously referred to in these articles has already resulted in a fair recovery of values. Within the past two weeks many serious doubts disappeared or moderated; the market showing consequent relief. Among these doubts were the crops, the political outlook and the monetary position. In all three of these respects the outlook is distinctly better than a month ago.
Corn is now practically out of danger from frost, and a 2,500,000,000 bushel crop is doubtless assured. At 50 cents per bushel this means the creation of $1,250,000,000 of new wealth. Corn is by all means our most important crop, inasmuch as it enters largely into the providing of food for man and beast, and is an element of growing importance in the industrial world. It also provides an immense quantity of freight for the railroads, both in its crude form and in the shape of meat and other products. The cotton crop has thus far escaped any damage from frost, and producers will be full compensated by good prices for all shortage in supply. The south at least should enjoy uninterrupted prosperity.

Politics.
As to the political situation the smoke of battle has much cleared; the issues are plainly drawn, and the forces arrayed on both sides can be distinctly seen. It may be said that there is no longer any problem particularly disturbing in the political outlook. As usual there is more or less fiery and pletaneous oratory, yet it should not be forgotten that such displays always accompany the electoral, and the candidates once in office are much more conservative than when out seeking votes. Politics is an enticing game, and often produces strange phenomena; its attractions are many, and it is noticeable that those who figure largely in the public eye before election generally occupy a minor part in the actual making of legislation. One of the most encouraging developments in the politics of today is the better type of men who are being brought forward into public life. The new leaders are a strong contrast with those retiring. It is not only encouraging, but positively assuring that our people should show such a marked preference for men of high character and ability. Such traits prove our capacity for self-government and show that the country is not likely to go very far astray. As part of the political situation, it is also refreshing to note a less radical tone in regard to corporations and capital. It is, of course, known that decisions of great importance will soon be delivered from the supreme court. These decisions will affect the whole industrial machinery of the United States. The great combinations may be obliged to change their organization, but no sane person desires or expects any confiscation or destruction of actual property. Any radical disturbance would mean disaster for the entire country, and the disaster would fall upon capital and labor alike. Fortunately, President Taft has appointed men of not only high character but of great selfpoise and judgment. The supreme court cannot be suspected of being lacking in sympathy for the common people; and it evidently recognizes the first importance of dealing justly by all interests and preserving the principles and the liberty which have been the basis of American growth and prosperity.

Corporations.
Another satisfactory development is the change in attitude of many of our great corporations. They are beginning to recognize that their great power and responsibilities must be used with due regard to public welfare, and that any organization conducted in defiance to the latter and established law must eventually pay the penalty. The anxiety of many of our corporations to be considered lawful is noteworthy and encouraging. The effect will be to at-least moderate public hostility and to diminish the reason for and consequently the danger of radical legislation. These are forces which work quietly and are not readily seen, but the changes referred to have actually occurred and will in due time work out beneficial results. In other words, the political and economic tendencies of the day are toward amelioration of abuses which have exasperated the public, and there is consequently much less danger of injurious legislation to corporations than was the case a year ago. It is not intended to convey the impression that our troubles are at an end, or that the course is clear. Nothing more can be claimed than a change

Anyone Can Lay Regal Roofing

A hammer and knife—the only tools necessary. Complete instructions, fully illustrated, packed in each roll. And they are so simple that anyone can produce a perfectly water-tight roof. Special large headed galvanized nails—avoid the necessity of unusually tin caps, which quickly rust and cause leaks. J-M Regal Roofing, when properly applied, will outwear any other roofing of its class, and it gives the best roof at the lowest cost.
J-M Regal Roofing is the outcome of more than 50 years' experience in manufacturing roofing materials. It represents the result of a half century of experience and a constant endeavor to produce a really high grade roofing at a low grade price. While not the lowest in cost, it contains more real value than any other manufacturer can produce for the price.
The base of J-M Regal Roofing is genuine J-M TRINIDAD LAKE ASPHALT—the most durable water-proofing material known. As Trinidad Lake Asphalt has been used for 30 years for street paving, Money.

In the money situation there is no longer any danger of the squeeze anticipated this fall. The last bank statement showed the banking situation at the leading centers to be sounder and much better than anticipated. General trade is quiet, being less in volume than a year ago, and no great strain is likely to fall upon the money market so long as speculation is kept within reasonable bounds. At present there are no prospects of any violent outbreak in the latter direction. Capital is still scarce and somewhat unduly invest-stock market is benefiting from the period of rest and readjustment which is taking place in other departments of our business machinery.

SERMON OF DR. TORREY

captance of those regenerating and transforming powers that there are in Jesus Christ; or, to put it into ordinary language, by regeneration through Christ.

And the best that any man or woman can attain to out of Christ is to be a mere caricature of manhood or womanhood as God created men and women to be.

Is there a man in this audience tonight so lost to all that is noble, to all that is good, to all that is truly manly, that he is willing to be a mere caricature of manhood as God created man to be? Is there a woman here tonight so lost to all that is true, to all that is womanly, that she is willing to be a mere caricature of womanhood as God created woman to be? That is what it costs not to be a Christian; and men and women, if there were no other argument but that, I would come to Christ tonight.

God's Favor.

5. In the next place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of God's favor.—we have all sacrificed God's favor through sin. The only way back to God's favor is by the acceptance of the Sin-bearer whom God has provided. How plain the Bible makes that. Turn to John III, 36: "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him."

"Oh," but some men say, "I do not know that I care about that. The favor of God? God is not real to me. He is so far away. If I have the favor of my neighbor, the favor of my employers, the favor of my constituents in politics, I do not care that I care whether I have the favor of this far-away being that you call God or not."

Wait a moment; when you go out of this place tonight, look up at the stars over your head, and say to yourself, "The great God that made those stars, the great God that made those wonderful worlds of light, about which the astronomers are telling such wonderful things in these days, the God that holds them in the hollow of His hand as they go whirling through space with such incredible momentum, that God loves me, but He is displeased with me."

When you get home tonight and lie down to sleep, and cannot—for I trust, in the kind mercy of God, some of you will not sleep when you get home tonight through thinking of what you have heard here—when you get home and cannot sleep, and all the rest of the house is asleep, and you lie there alone, alone with God, and looking down into the face of God, and God looking down into your face only but also into your heart, say to yourself, "That great God into whose face I am now looking up, and who is looking down into my face only but also into my heart, that God loves me, but He is displeased with me."

Men and women, if I had to face that thought tonight, if there were any way to find peace with God—and thank God there is—I would not rest till I had found it.

Christ's Testimony.

In the next place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of Christ's acknowledgment in the world to come.—How plain the word of God is about that. Turn to Jesus' own words in Matthew x. 32, 33: "Whoever therefore shall confess Me before men, him will I confess also before My Father which is in heaven; but whosoever shall deny Me before men, him will I also deny before My Father which is in heaven."

You will often hear men say this: "If a man believes in Christ in the secrecy of his heart, even if he never confesses Him or says anything about it, God yet knows what is in his heart, and will accept him on the ground of the faith which he never confesses."

I challenge any man to show me one line in this book that countenances such a statement.

That Word says as plainly as day, in Romans x. 10: "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation."

That Word says as plainly as day, and the Master Himself said it, in Mark viii. 38: "Whoever therefore shall be ashamed of Me and My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of Man be ashamed when He cometh in the glory of His Father with the holy angels."

That word says as plainly as day, "Whoever shall confess Me before men, him will I also confess before My Father which is in Heaven; but whosoever denieth Me before men, him will I also deny before My Father which is in Heaven."

You say, "Does not faith save?" Yes, and faith confesses; and the faith that does not lead to confession will not lead to salvation.

I can imagine that great day, when the Lord Jesus summons all His own before the bar of God. There we stand in bright and glorious array, the Lord Jesus Christ at our head, and He turns to His Father and says: "Father, all these are Mine: they confessed Me upon earth before men, and I now confess them before Thee My Father in Heaven."

But look, away over on the outskirts of that crowd is a man who hung upon the skirts of the Church of Christ on earth. His sympathies were with the church, his associates were with the church, but he is a coward, and had not the courage of his convictions. He was afraid of his business partner, of his associates in politics or in society, and he never came out and confessed Christ openly before men. But he thinks that because he hung upon the outskirts of the Church of Christ on earth, that he can hang upon the outskirts up there.

The Lord Jesus Christ now turns to him—I do not believe it will be so much in anger as in unutterable pity—and with a sad wave of His hand He says, "Depart, depart; you did not confess Me upon earth before men; I cannot confess thee before My Father which is in Heaven." Men and women, that is what it costs not to be a Christian. Not to be an open, confessed, out-and-out follower of Jesus Christ.

7. Once more, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of eternal life, and means to perish for ever.—How plain the Word of God is about that. Take the word of Jesus Christ Himself in John III, 14, 15: "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up; that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life." How plain it is, believe—have everlasting life; not believe—perish. John III, 16: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life; not believe—perish. Once more, John III, 36: "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." How plain it is, believe—have everlasting life; not believe—shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him."

Do you ask me what eternal life means? I cannot tell you. I can tell you what its beginnings are, for, thank God, I have them in my own heart tonight. But what eternal life means in all its fullness, in its eternal outworkings, no human language can describe, and no human fancy can conceive.

I will tell you what to do. Take that moment of your life whose joy was purest, deepest, highest, holiest, divinest, multiply it by infinity, and carry it out to all eternity, and you will have some faint conception of what eternal life means.

Do you ask me what it means to perish? I cannot tell you. You and I sometimes see the beginnings of it in the man or woman who has gone down through sin, in the depravity of their lives, in the corruption of their characters, in their wretchedness and despair. But what it means to perish in all the eternal outworkings of a depraved character, what it means to perish in that endless vista that lies ahead of us, no human language can describe, no human fancy can conceive.

But I will tell you what to do. Take that moment in your own life whose degradation was deepest, whose corruption was completest, whose despair was the most blank and the most utter, and whose agony was the most appalling, multiply it by infinity, and carry it out to all eternity, and you have some faint conception of what it means to perish. And that is what it costs not to be a Christian.

The Price of Christ's Life.

Men and women, I put to you then this question: Are you willing to pay the price of a Christless life? If you are, I have nothing more to say. If not, I ask you to stand right up and profess your acceptance of Christ like men and women. Now I will admit that you may gain something by not becoming Christians. I will admit that it will cost you something to become real Christians. It will in all probability cost you the loss of friends that you hold very dear. I never knew a man to step out of the world without losing friends.

It will cost you the loss of money, for real Christianity touches a man's pocketbook. I am willing to admit that. You cannot do some things in business if you become a Christian that add to your income and which you do today. I will admit that. I want you to know this. I do not want you to come under false pretenses.

It will cost you very likely the loss of pleasures of which you are very fond, and not for one day only, but for weeks and months and years to come. When I gave my heart to Christ I had to give up everything I was most addicted to in the days gone by, the things without which, it seemed to me, life would not be worth living. I want you to know this tonight. We want real conversion here.

But I also want to ask you a question: Are you willing, for the sake of a few godless companions, that you are better off without, are you willing, for the sake of a few hundred or a few thousand, or a hundred thousand, if need be, of pounds sterling, are you less pleasures that are unworthy of a thinking being anyhow and unworthy of your brain and your feet and hands, that men and women ought to be ashamed of even if they are not Christians, are you willing, for the sake of such things as these, to sacrifice peace and joy and hope and manhood and womanhood and God's favor and Christ's acknowledgment and eternal life and perish for ever?

Are you willing to make so great a sacrifice for so paltry gain? One night in New York City, at the close of a sermon by Dr. MacArthur, a gentleman came to him and said, "Dr. MacArthur, I want to ask you a question: If I become a Christian must I give up my money?"

Dr. MacArthur was a wise man, and answered, "If you become a Christian, and Jesus Christ asks you for your money, you must be willing to give it up, you must be willing to give it up, every penny of it." The man said, "Dr. MacArthur, I will take a week to think about that."

Dr. MacArthur knew it was no sacrifice.

DAME NATURE HINTS

When the Food is Not Sited.

When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food. The old rhyme is always faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried various kinds of breakfast messes which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating."

"A friend persuaded me to quit the old coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice. I began using them three months ago."

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way."

"Grape-Nuts make a delicious as well as a nutritious dish, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

"There's a reason."

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

good pressing the man just then, and he said, "Very well."

The man came back after a week, and said, "Dr. MacArthur, I have settled it. I will hold on to my money till death, and if Christ and heaven must go, they must go."

That was an awful decision, but it was an intelligent one. Are you ready to say that tonight? "I will hold on to my money till death; I will hold on to my godless pleasures till death; and if Christ and heaven must go, and peace and joy and hope and manhood and womanhood and God's favor and Christ's acknowledgment and eternal life must go, and eternal ruin come, let them go and let it come." Are you ready to say that, men and women? That is what you do say, practically, if you go out of this place tonight without Jesus Christ.

News of Theatres

The best vaudeville bill ever presented in Paducah, considering the class of attractions and price paid for them, is the bill at the Kentucky the first half of this week. The Four Cates, headliners, who put on a musical act that requires talent, and dress the act exquisitely, are worth more than the price of admission. Associated with them are Allie Leslie Haasen, the famous child impersonator; Williams and Culver, comic singing and dancing performers, and Lee Barth, well known to the vaudeville stage as a character dilettante. They are playing a bargain matinee this afternoon, and will be seen tonight at two performances, the second beginning after 9 o'clock.

At the Star.

The Three Musical Cates is an act that is extra good and the Star theater management are tickled that they have been able to secure them for 3 days, commencing Monday. All the managers along the line of the Hopkins circuit have sent in fine reports on this act and we are to expect something good.

Hodges & Darrell have a swell singing act and one that is sure to please as the patrons of the Star love good singing mixed with good clean comedy.

Our own Frank has another illustrated song.

Two fine reels of new motion pictures complete the program. Admission 10c, children 5c, with 2 matinees every day, and two performances at night.

The Herald of Friday morning said:

You may have walked at one time or another through a dark and damp woods for mile after mile, now picking your way laboriously through tangled underbrush, now brushing your feet upon thorns or stones or again losing your footing upon the slippery, sodden leaves, until, you felt, at least, that your journey was more of a struggle than a ramble. Then, just as you were about to conclude that nature's bounty was confined to poetry and art, suddenly you came upon an open place—a place where the trees were parted above your head and the sunlight bathed the little plot of earth in light, silvery, refreshing, almost intoxicating. And the creatures of light were there—no few tufts of grass, a wild rose, perhaps, and if you were particularly fortunate, a red-breasted robin and his song. You remember the relief, the thankfulness.

This is "Metz in Ireland." It is the welcome open place in the tangled, sodden wood of problem plays that weary and entangle. And the play deserves a better name. There is a hint of farce in the caption, but the play itself is something better than the average farce. And there is not problem here. We are not called upon to decide what course a wronged and outraged husband should pursue, nor to watch a young and very serious married life. There is none of this. We are called upon to do nothing more laborious than witness the trials and vicissitudes that meet the path of a soldier of fortune, albeit he be a very wealthy soldier, who has a turn for the practical joke.

Metz appears in a small village in Ireland apparently an aimless rover. He has no name at the time of his appearance. He is nameless and unknown—termed "Stranger" by the villagers. However, there happens to be in this village the estate of one Metz, a German who has recently died, leaving the estate, in case his roving son does not appear, to Kathleen O'Malley. Sir Robert Somerset, a British officer, has laid his plans, and he is as full of plans as a scheming matron, to win the hand of the fair and wealthy Kathleen, thus gaining possession of the estate. He and the steward conspired the idea of palming off the "Stranger," who is a German, as Metz, the owner of the estate, choosing that method of leading the fair colleen to believe that it is herself that he desires and not her wealth! The proposal is made to the "Stranger," who consents to net the role for a stipulated sum, which is agreed upon. He enters upon the plan with the distinct understanding that the British officer and the steward are to obey his orders, just as though he were, in reality, the wealthy Metz.

Herein lies the humor of the play, and Mr. Wilson is the one to develop the infinite possibilities for fun in the situation. His lordly and contemptuous treatment of the conspirators kept the audience in a continual laugh. But new and unforeseen complications are arising. You will catch this from the expression in the eyes of the impostor from time to time. He has become enamored of the fair Kathleen, whom he recognizes as the sweetheart of his youth. The situations are too numerous to describe here. They are at every turn—the more credit to the author—with all their number they do not become tiresome.

In the end Metz confesses that he is not Metz at all, but an impostor. He is about to take up his roving where he left it, when it suddenly develops that he is the son of Metz, which, in affairs of the estate, amounts to the same thing. Kathleen and the young German discover their happiness in each other, the conspirators are discredited and all is well.

The plot is simple, perhaps a trifle hackneyed. But it is not sordid. The play in its entirety is simple, and therein lies the charm. And it is merry withal. The gaiety is not strained. It is spontaneous, effervescent, delicious.

Mr. Wilson's songs captivated. Captivating is the only word to describe them. We would not criticize the tones of the wood thrush nor the selections of the feather-throated songster. No more will we the renditions of Mr. Wilson. Here was simplicity again. He sang, not as one sings for fringes, but as the thrush, because he must. "My Queen of Dreams" was perhaps the best liked of the selections. "Bridal Song" was a delightful Irish melody—Irish, therefore abounding in melody.

Ann Dolan the Shrew, the quarrelsome Irish housewife, was perhaps the best piece of character-acting in the play. This role was taken by Lizzie Conway. Sir Robert Somerset, the impetuous fortune-hunter, in the literal sense of the word, was fair. Beresford Lovett, handled this part with passing ability, thought not times we could wish that he leaned a little further from the stage and a little closer to life.

The rest of the characters were well taken, and on the whole the company was well suited.

One Man Who Came Back. Two fight fans were discussing the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

"It's the old story; they never come back."

"Except Enoch Arden," replied the other, "and he had to go away again."—"Everybody's Magazine."

"Your husband spends all his leisure with his automobile," said one woman.

"Yes," replied the other, "Don't you miss him?"

"No; if he isn't at home fixing the machine I can always reach him by telephone at the repair shop."—"Washington Star."

HIGH SCHOOL IS EASILY VICTOR

DEFEATS ALUMNI BY SCORE OF 20 TO 0.

Third Game With Perfect Score for the Paducah Players This Season.

HOW THE TEAMS LINED UP.

Another step for a perfect record was taken by the High school football team when the machine of Coach Craig defeated the alumni team by a score of 20 to 0. The victory was easy as the former High school stars were unable to down the team work of the students. In the first quarter High school kicked off, and gained the ball, and by steady work scored when Hughes booted a goal from the twenty-yard line.

In the second quarter the alumni braced, but were never able to cross the chalked line. Mitchell, for High school, got the ball on a fake pass and scored a touchdown, and Hughes kicked goal. Browning later was sent across the second touchdown score, 14 to 0. In the third quarter no score was made, and both teams fought hard. In the final quarter High school shoved Ogilvie over for a touchdown and with the goal kicked by Hughes the final score was 20 to 0.

CUT HIS ARM

PHILIPS BURNED SCYTHE BLADE IN HIS MUSCLES.

Serious Accident to St. John's Man While Cutting Brush—Pers-sonals.

Mr. Treney Phelps, while cutting shrubbery along a branch on the farm of Mrs. Lena Engler, had his scythe blade caught by vines and by missing his aim cut his forearm badly, severing down into the muscles and blood vessels. Dr. R. D. Harper was called and closed the wound with seven stitches. He is resting well and prospects of his recovery at once is anticipated.

Mr. Al Kenzie, of Brookport, Ill., visited his parents at this place.

Mrs. Florence Frost is about recovered from heart disease, of which she has had quite a tedious convalescence.

A Hurricane.

"The terrors of the deep," remarked the captain of a transatlantic liner, "were perhaps never more thrillingly set forth than in the description by a young lady who last year made her first trip abroad. She recorded the fact that he 'got up, washed and went to breakfast'."

"There was, however, one important exception. When she crossed the Channel the experience was so trying that she felt impelled to describe it. 'I am firmly resolved to stay on deck,' she wrote, although the tempest increased to such an extent that it is only with the greatest difficulty that I can hold up my parasol.'"—Brooklyn Life.

Even the new French ready-printed postcards, upon which you have only to tick off the sentences that fit your case, do not beat the record of country." Pitou's answer was just "I"—complete Latin for "I do!" In business correspondence the record is divided between Victor Hugo, who, anxious to know how his "Les Miserables" was going, wrote to the publisher—"?"—and the publisher, who triumphantly replied "!"—London Chronicle.
